

CHV20- The UN

A little bit about the UN:

- is an _____ that is almost like a world government.
- The headquarters building is in _____.
- It is not a world government because it does not make laws. However, they have a charter that is an international treaty that sets out basic principles of international relations.
- It was established in _____
- This organization was needed at that time because of the devastation suffered through _____.
 - At that point 51 countries, headed by USA, Britain, USSR, and China committed to preserve peace throughout the world.
- Today _____ belong to the United Nations, which is almost every nation in the world.

Which 4 countries are not members of the UN?

- _____ – not recognized as sovereign state
- _____ - not recognized as sovereign state
- _____ – war with Israel- currently invited to observe
- _____ - not interested

The UN has 4 main purposes:

- To maintain international _____ and security;
- To develop and preserve friendly relations among all nations;
- To solve international _____ that may arise while promoting respect for human rights;
- To be a focal point for harmonizing intentions and actions of _____

The UN is comprised of 6 “bodies”:

- | | |
|---|--|
| <input type="checkbox"/> The General Assembly | <input type="checkbox"/> _____ |
| <input type="checkbox"/> _____ | <input type="checkbox"/> Economic and Social Council |
| <input type="checkbox"/> The Security Council | <input type="checkbox"/> International _____ |

The General Assembly	Security Council	Economic and Social Council
The Trusteeship Council	International Court of Justice	The Secretariat

The UN Annual Conference:

- Each year a conference is held for students at the United Nations headquarters in _____.
- Students from all over the world attend the conference.
- Guest speakers are invited to speak on _____ chosen for that year's conference.
- The goal of this annual conference is to promote _____ and awareness, and stimulate action among _____ and youth leaders about human rights.
- Lastly, the conference provides youth participants with _____ using recent information technologies such as web casting and video conferencing.

List 3 of the UN Development Goals for 2015

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.